

Leadership Reimagined

Disruption caused by the global pandemic challenged many leaders to pivot their thinking, strategies and operating models. SCOR's compelling Executive Leadership Series features conversations that focus on how leaders are responding to the shifting environment caused by COVID-19 and leading through the current and post-pandemic era.

Join us for these thought-provoking discussions between SCOR executives and their fellow leaders and industry innovators. Hear their reflections and learn about solutions which originated in response to COVID-19 but will continue to impact the industry beyond the crisis.

Tailor made for executives, senior leaders and managers who are committed to enhancing their industry knowledge, invested in elevating their organizational impact and gaining access to forward-thinking executives featured in this series.